

FIRE CORPS FACT SHEET

Fire Corps promotes the use of citizen advocates (volunteers) to support and augment the capacity of resource-constrained local fire and emergency service departments at all levels: volunteer, combination, and career.

Fire Corps volunteers assist with many projects to help local firefighters, including conducting fire safety education and training, assisting firefighters with preparing equipment and materials for re-use after a call, and other duties that assist the firefighters or promote fire safety.

Fire Corps is funded through the Department of Homeland Security and is managed and implemented through a partnership between the National Volunteer Fire Council and the International Association of Fire Chiefs, and with direction from the National Advisory Committee, a group of 15 national organizations representing the fire and emergency services, to provide the program with strategic direction and important feedback from the field.
